

Abstract submission guidelines for the Annual Conference 2017

Please note that you must register for the Regional Studies Association Conference in order to submit an abstract. The conference is inclusive, which means that all submitted abstracts will be accepted. The exception to this is if the abstract contains inappropriate content, or falls outside of the topical themes of the conference.

Only one abstract may be submitted per registration. If you would like to present more than one paper, then a second registration must be paid for. Alternatively, a co-author on that paper may register and present.

The submitting author will be considered as the leading and presenting author, unless otherwise stated. If the co-authors are not cited when submitting the abstract, then their names will not appear in the conference volume. It is not sufficient to add additional author names to the abstract or full paper.

The following guidelines set out the acceptable format for abstract submission. These guidelines apply for our Annual Conference in Dublin, Ireland 4th – 7th June 2017 at Trinity College Dublin.

Please note that the abstract submission closing date is Friday 24th February 2017.

Abstracts guidelines:

- 250 words in length;
- Titled;
- Text only; no diagrams, graphs, pictures, citations or maps;
- All contributing authors must be named when submitting the paper via the online registration portal, with their country and institution, otherwise they may not appear in the conference volume. If you have problems with this, please contact the office;
- Indicate which theme the paper is being submitted under.

The Regional Studies Association reserves the right to reject abstracts that do not conform to the above criteria, or that fall out of the scope of relevant gateway themes. Please refer to the call for papers for relevant themes.

Please contact Lesa Reynolds if you have any questions about submitting your abstract:
