

Conference

REGIONAL POLICY IN SCOTLAND AFTER BREXIT

Friday, 7th February 2020, 9.15am – 5pm

Court-Senate Suite, Collins Building, Richmond Street,
University of Strathclyde, Glasgow

This conference is taking a fresh, evidence-based look at regional and local development in Scotland and what kind of regional policy responses are required. This includes research evidence on places and interventions where European Structural Funds have been effective.

The Conference is being organised by the Scottish Government in partnership with the Regional Studies Association (Scottish Branch), the European Policies Research Centre (University of Strathclyde) and the ESRC Centre on Constitutional Change (University of Edinburgh).
