Look at all the wonderful things we have for you!

Dear RSA Territorial Representatives,

In this edition of Bravo! we have so much information and opportunities for you to examine, you may be rubbing your eyes in disbelief: conference highlights and recordings, editorial vacancies and webinar opportunities, events to attend and new people to meet. So read on friends and enjoy this issue of your RSA territorial representatives' newsletter.
This month the RSA hosted the exciting and innovative 2021 Regions in Recovery eFestival (#RinR21). The Festival ran over 2.5 weeks, featured 458 papers, 124 sessions including plenary sessions, professional development sessions and well-being sessions. The Festival was delivered in partnership with a number of societies and research-led networks and brought together the global regional studies and regional science community.

We would like to thank the over 1250 participants representing 71 countries who joined the Festival and celebrated regional research, policy and development with us.

Please share this with your networks so that they can view impressions and highlights of the Festival, browse the full program and view recordings where available (not all sessions were recorded due to our opt-in policy).

NEW FACES

MEET SANJA KMEZIC - RSA AMBASSADOR TO SERBIA
Sanja is a lawyer and policy analyst, with a doctorate degree in public finance law from the University of Graz, where she now lectures at the Centre for Southeastern European Studies in addition to her consultancy work on Serbia and the West Balkans regions for the World Bank. She has recently published a book on fiscal decentralization in Southeastern Europe. Please feel free to contact her.
SAY HELLO TO MICHAEL GLASS - AMBASSADOR TO USA

Michael is an urbanist who works at the intersection of geography and planning. His primary research is on city-region governance and planning, housing, and urban infrastructure. Winner of the 2015 Bellet Award for Teaching Excellence, Dr. Glass is the Director of the Urban Studies Program at the University of Pittsburgh and can be contacted here if you would like to say hello.

INTRODUCING BRADY REID - RSA BLOG EDITOR

Brady is a PhD student at the University of Guelph in Ontario, Canada. Brady works primarily with environmental policy related projects centered around Indigenous knowledge systems, engagement with environmental industries, and community-researcher relations. Brady is the recently-appointed Blog Editor at the RSA. Please contact him with your blog proposals at rsablog@regionalstudies.org.

RSA NEWS

NEW RSA WEBINAR FEATURING ... YOU!
We are in the process of organising a new webinar series featuring some of our favourite people - our territorial representatives. That's you!
Called the RSA International Hour, each webinar will be organised by one of the RSA's international networks of Ambassadors, Branches, Sections and Divisions. The aim is to present the latest regional or urban research, developments and policies from these territories to a global audience.
This webinar series will run monthly, launching in September 2021. If you would like to host one of these webinars, or just know some more about it, please contact our Daniela Carl.

OPPORTUNITIES
- please let your networks know about these

BOOK REVIEW/REGULAR EDITOR & EARLY CAREER EDITOR FOR REGIONAL STUDIES
The RSA seeks to appoint a combined Book Review/Regular Editor and an Early Career Editor to its flagship journal, Regional Studies. As a Book Review Editor, the successful candidate will manage the commissioning, review and acceptance process for book reviews submitted to the journal. They will also be called on to support the existing team of Editors in managing the peer review of general submissions in their area of expertise. The Early Career Editor is a mentored role open to candidates within five years of the date on their PhD. The application deadline is 31 August 2021.

EARLY CAREER EDITOR FOR TERRITORY, POLITICS, GOVERNANCE
The RSA seeks to appoint an Early Career Editor for TPG. The role is open to candidates within five years of the date on their PhD certificate on 31st August 2021. The Early Career Editor will join the existing team of Co-Editors in managing the peer review of general submissions in their area of expertise, enhancing the journal's reputation as a world-leading publication in the field of regional studies, and ensuring that it is in a position to attract the best authors and papers for its readership. The deadline is 31 August 2021.
EARLY CAREER EDITOR FOR SPATIAL ECONOMIC ANALYSIS

The selection of an Early Career Editor for Spatial Economic Analysis will be made by the Regional Studies Association and Regional Science Association – British and Irish Section in the light of recommendations from the RSA's Publications Committee on which RSAI BIS representatives sit for decisions on Spatial Economic Analysis. The successful candidate may wish to join one or both Association’s as a member. For clarity non-members may apply. The deadline is 31 August 2021.

DIGITAL EDITOR FOR ADP

The RSA seeks a Digital Editor for its journal, Area Development and Policy. This is a new role to develop the journal’s digital and social media presence. It is expected that the Digital Editor will manage the journal’s social media accounts and strategy to best disseminate journal content and engage with readers and followers about the journal, trends in the field and publishing tips and queries. The application deadline is 13 September 2021. Please let your networks know.
